GH Phipps Construction Announces Key Promotions in Colorado Springs

Greenwood Village, Colorado — May 23, 2016 — GH Phipps Construction Companies is pleased to announce the promotion of 3 employees to key positions in the Colorado Springs office. The office, opened in 1960, also services Southern Colorado.

- Michael Beaudoin has been promoted to Construction Operations Manager in Colorado Springs, after playing a major role in the success of GH Phipps' Special Projects group over the past several years. In his new position, Beaudoin will provide leadership and direction for the Colorado Springs office, working with the entire team to grow the company's business in Southern Colorado. He brings 25 years of experience in diverse management positions, including roles and responsibilities in key areas of construction, including business development, preconstruction and operations.
- Dan Lane, LEED AP BD+C, ASHE, has been promoted to Business Development Manager --Colorado Springs from a position as project manager/estimator in Special Projects. Lane will work closely with Beaudoin and Wulf to identify and secure opportunities in Southern Colorado. Lane earned a bachelor's degree in civil engineering technology from Colorado State University - Pueblo.
- Jason Wulf, LEED AP BD+C, ASHE, has been promoted to Special Projects Manager – Southern Colorado. In his new role, Wulf will report to Director of Special Projects Roger Treichler, who, with Michael Beaudoin, will support Wulf in growing GH Phipps' Special Projects group in the south. Wulf earned a bachelor's degree in construction engineering from Texas Tech University and has been active in USGBC Colorado over the years.
